LLOYD INTERNATIONAL HONORS COLLEGE
The University of North Carolina at Greensboro

Call for Submissions: Undergraduate Student Presentations

27th ANNUAL UNDERGRADUATE HONORS SYMPOSIUM

Friday, March 26, 2027
In-Person Conference

The Honors Symposium offers undergraduates the opportunity to participate in an academic conference with concurrent sessions. We welcome submissions from all UNC Greensboro undergraduate students or any Honors student from a North Carolina Honors Program or Honors College. Presentations should be research-based and can be in any discipline, but presentations should be geared toward a general audience.

Students may submit a maximum of two presentations for consideration to the Symposium. A group of students may also submit a presentation. December 2026 UNCG graduates are also allowed to submit presentations for consideration to the Symposium.

How to submit your presentation for consideration:

Submit an abstract of your presentation for consideration by January 4, 2027, at 11:45 pm via MS Forms at: https://go.uncg.edu/LIHCSymposium Students should plan a 10-12-minute presentation and Q&A to follow. The Symposium does not offer poster sessions.

Faculty can get involved by:

- Suggesting a panel of student presentations from one of your current courses. Faculty-suggested class panels may be in languages other than English. Panels will be limited to a maximum of 3 students. You may offer two panels if you have more than 3 students you'd like to present.
- Encouraging students with excellent work to submit a presentation
- Offering to serve as a judge at the Symposium
- Attending the Symposium, bringing your class to the Symposium, and encouraging students to attend as audience members as well
- Create assignments for students in your spring courses that include attending the Symposium

The Honors Symposium Prizes, sponsored by UNC Greensboro's Lloyd International Honors College, are awarded for outstanding presentations at the Symposium. This year's prizes dedicated to the encouragement of high-quality academic work will include monetary awards of $500, $300, and $200 for the top three presentations in three categories. There will be one category for Visiting Honors students and two categories for UNCG students: Arts & Humanities, and Sciences & Professional Schools. Award decisions will be based on the presentations at the Symposium.

There is no registration cost to attend or present. We encourage faculty, friends, and family to attend as audience members. For more information about the Symposium, contact honorscollege@uncg.edu

205 Foust Building, UNCG, P.O. Box 26170, Greensboro, NC 27402-6170
(336) 334-5538 http://honorscollege.uncg.edu